Edinburgh

Edinburgh is an ancient and historic city with a skyline dominated by Edinburgh Castle home to the Scottish Crown Jewels and the Stone of Destiny. The castle was built on the site of an extinct volcano and is mentioned in records as early as the 8th Century. It is well worth a visit to the castle during your stay in Edinburgh. There is much else to see and do in Edinburgh and Conference Search will be pleased to advise you.

If you are travelling from abroad, why not take the opportunity to see the beautiful Scottish countryside either before or after the conference.

All delegates are cordially invited to a welcome reception on Friday 3rd May, which is being held at this magnificent stately home set in 100 acres on the shores of the Forth. Coach transport will be provided between Heriot-Watt Edinburgh Conference Centre and Hopetoun House. There is no extra charge to attend this event, but please make sure you complete the booking form to let us know you will be coming.

Gala Dinner

The dinner is being held on Saturday 4th May, at Prestonfield House a short distance from the city centre. Coach transport will be provided. The main house dates from 1687 and was built for Sir James Dick the Lord Provost of the city at that time.

There is a charge to attend this event.

An impressive list of international speakers has agreed to contribute and there will be something for everyone with high quality clinical trials and important preliminary observational work.

The Congress will incorporate a range of approaches, neurophysiological and traditional. It will also incorporate a further meeting of the International Acupuncture Research Forum (IARF) to debate further pressing research issues.

Try to make the time to attend this Congress. It will combine the best up to date knowledge and a memorable social programme!
